Hms M 33

HMS M33 is an M29-class monitor of the Royal Navy built in 1915. She saw active service in the Mediterranean during the First World War and in Russia during the Allied Intervention in 1919. She was used subsequently as a mine-laying training ship, fuelling hulk, boom defence workshop and floating office, being renamed HMS Minerva and Hulk C23 during her long life.

HMS M33 - Wikipedia

HMS M33 was built in 1915 on the orders of the First Lord of the Admiralty, Winston Churchill. She was a floating gun platform designed to bombard coastal positions from the sea. Her first active operation was the support of the British landings at Suvla during the Battle of Gallipoli in August 1915.

HMS M.33 - Portsmouth Historic Dockyard

We enjoyed the visit to M.33, not the biggest vessel but one with an interesting history. As the youngest of the vessels in the historic dockyard this feels closer to a more modern naval vessel, which makes it easier to relate to the crew and stories surrounding the ship.
